The INSEAD GEMBA curriculum

13

Core courses

The first half of the programme comprises 13 core courses covering the fundamental disciplines that all business leaders need:

Core courses:

- Business and society
- Corporate finance
- Ethics
- Financial accounting
- International political analysis
- Leading people and organisations
- Macroeconomics
- Managerial accounting
- Marketing
- Prices and markets
- Process and operations management
- Strategy
- Uncertainty, data and judgement

The GEMBA curriculum is designed to enhance your core skills and introduce you to new management areas through a rigorous and transformative learning journey.

While the Europe, Asia, and Middle East sections take place primarily on INSEAD Campuses, GEMBA Flex offers a blended format of in-person modules, live virtual classes, and online learning.

In addition, participants across all sections will have opportunities to travel to off-campus locations, which are decided and communicated during the academic year, enriching the overall learning experience and fostering global exposure.

4

Elective courses

Elective courses take place on INSEAD's Europe Campus in Fontainebleau over two weeks in July. With a wide selection of around 20 electives to choose from, you will be able to go deeper into some of the disciplines covered in the core courses and explore new areas, depending on your interest.

Every year, GEMBA and TIEMBA alumni have the opportunity to return to campus to join in the elective courses, making the GEMBA programme a lifelong learning experience.

Sample elective courses:

- Blue ocean strategy
- Brand management
- Data science for executives
- Negotiations
- Private equity
- Psychological issues in management
- Realising entrepreneurial potential

3

Key Management Challenges (KMCs)

We recognise that real-life management does not always fall neatly into business school subject departments. This is why we have devised close to 20 KMCs as innovative courses to cover broader, multidisciplinary, company-wide issues.

Sample KMC courses:

- AI strategy for startups & C-suites
- Conducting business across cultures
- Entrepreneurial leadership
